QUAKERS WIN BUT ONE GAME

Bender Opens Up Well But Weakens Towards the Close, After His Support Fails Him—Oakland Defeats Portland—Various Football Games.

New York, Oct. 14.—Amid the frenzied plaudits of more than 24,000 baseball enthusiasts the New York National league champions won the world's professional baseball championship today by defeating the Philadelphia American league team in the fifth game of the post season series by a score of 2 to 0.

Of the four previous games New York won three and Philadelphia one. Mathewson and Bender confronted each other today in what proved to be the final contest.

In the opening inning the New York pitcher was apparently not at his best while Bender afforded a splendid exhibition of the pitcher's art. Mathewson soon rallied and although he contrived the only two infield errors of the game he held the visitors safe.

The victory was not due so much to his effectiveness as the sharp fielding. The visitors weakened in the infield and after a brilliant opening Bender lost control of the ball.

TEN MONTHS IN PRISON

Congressman Williamson Sentenced at Portland Yesterday.

With Hands in His Pockets He Coolly Faces the Judge His Only Remark Being, "I Guess It Has All Been Said," When Asked What He Had to Say.

Portland, Oct. 14.—John Newton Williamson, Congressman from Oregon for the second district, was sentenced in the United States Court this morning to serve 10 months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $5000 for conspiracy to suborn perjury in connection with taking public lands.

He was lectured by the court for failure to set a good example to others because of his exalted public position.

Maria R. Briggs, United States Commissioner, was reprimanded by the court for similar dereliction of duty and given equal penalty, but because Dr. Van Gesner, convicted of being a fellow conspirator to suborn perjury, was old and in feeble health, the term of imprisonment was cut in two and the fine doubled.

Appeals are to be made and a stay of execution was made this morning, pending a further order of the court. Meanwhile Congressman Williamson will go free on his recognizance, but a bond of $40000 each was required of the other two defendants, the same as during the trial of the case. As the term of imprisonment is less than one year, sentences would be served in the county jail.

When the time arrived for the judge to impose sentence, Judge Hunt asked Mr. Williamson to stand up. With his hands in his pockets, and with no

DEATH COMES QUICKLY

Wave Sweeps Away Steerage Passengers on Campania

CATASTROPHE IS UNEXPECTED

Women and Children Making Merry on Steerage Deck When Vessel Lurches and Ships an Enormous Sea—Thirty Passengers Are Seriously Injured.

New York, Oct. 14.—A gigantic wave rolled over the steamer Campania last Wednesday while the vessel was at sea, washing overboard at least five persons and inflicting more or less injury to 30 more. The passengers were all lost from the steerage. When the steamer reached quarantine today she still had ten in the hospital.

The catastrophe was wholly unexpected. The steerage deck was covered with merry-makers when suddenly the vessel lurched and shipped an enormous sea. The passengers, many of whom were children were caught in the swirl of water and carried aft and back again as the flood of water returned. The force was so great that a door in the rail was smashed and through this five of the passengers were swept to death.

DYNAMITE SCATTERED ALONG RAILROAD TRACK

Door of Freight Car Works Open and Explosives Are Distributed.
Willows, Cal., Oct. 14.—The story sent out recently of an attempt to dynamite a train near Willows, Cal., has been exploded.

It seems that a freight train passed through the town Tuesday night. In the train was a carload of dynamite or giant powder from the Hercules Powder Works. A door of the car had worked open as had lids from the numerous boxes of explosives. The jolting and bumping of the train caused the dynamite to spill out and it was scattered along the track from there to Red Bluff before the open door was discovered and the damage repaired. Section men were busy for a day gathering up the dangerous substance.

change in color, looking the judge square in the face, Williamson stood ready to receive his condemnation.

"Mr. Williamson," said judge Hunt, "an indictment was brought by the grand jury charging you with conspiracy to suborn perjury. Your plea of not guilty was entered and upon trial you were found guilty. The time has now arrived to impose penalty. Have you anything to say before sentence is pronounced upon you?"

There was no whimper for mercy from "Newt" Williamson. He answered in a firm voice, grimly, without shifting his position: "I guess it has all been said, Judge." Sentence was then pronounced.

MANY MOURN SUDDEN END

Leading Theatrical Men Deplore Death of Henry Irving.

"What Would We Not Give to Raise Again a Spirit Such as His, An Atom of His Soul Would Make a God of You"—No One to Take His Place.

London, Oct. 14.—The body of Sir Henry Irving will reach London tomorrow morning. It will be accompanied by Irving's sons and Bram Stoker, his manager. On arrival the body will be taken to Irving's late residence. Notwithstanding the request that no flowers be sent, several magnificent pieces have been received and given a place on the coffin.

Flags are at half mast on most of the London theatres and performances are closed, with the orchestras playing the dead march.

Ellen Terry is said to be completely prostrated and she will not appear tonight.

New York, Oct. 14.—To the actors, managers, and theatre going public of New York, the news of the death of Sir Henry Irving came as an overwhelming blow. Many declared last night that the stage has lost the greatest friend and the drama one of the most marvelous of its interpreters that ever lived. Following are some of the tributes paid to the memory of Sir Henry:

Richard Mansfield—"Irving was my dear friend and it is impossible at the moment to say all that I feel. He and I had one last supper together a season ago in the Plaza, which is now no more. His farewell words to me were, 'One day we'll have a little cottage together somewhere.' I can only think now of those words of Schiller: 'What would we not give to raise again a spirit such as his. An atom of his soul would make a God of you.'"

John Drew—"I am intensely shocked to hear of the death of Mr. Irving. My acquaintance with him—made upon his first visit to this country, when I was a young man in Daly's company—ripened into friendship, when I went to England to play in 'The Taming of the Shrew,' with that company, a friendship I am proud and happy to feel lasted to the end. It would ill become me to speak of him as an actor. I can only grieve with the English speaking world at his unlooked for taking off."

Daniel Frohman—"Sir Henry Irving's death is most regrettable. He simply worked himself to death."

Jones, formerly a representative in the state legislature, Thaddeus Potter, a local attorney and Ira Wade, a timber locator, returned a verdict finding Jones and Potter guilty of conspiracy to defraud the United States of a part of its public domain, while Wade was acquitted.

The charge against the defendants is that they secured persons to locate lands as a matter of fact the land was being secured for the benefit of defendants.

It is understood that the jury agreed on a verdict against Potter and Jones on first ballot but required three ballots to agree on the acquittal of Wade.

SITUATION GROWS SERIOUS

Abrogation of Privileges Granted the Fishermen Forebodes Trouble.

St. John, N. F., Oct. 14.—The situation on the west coast created by the abrogation of special privileges granted to American fishermen is becoming serious. Two American vessels are now at Bonne Bay in quest of herring, but as none are in the bay no trouble has arisen. The fisheries department declared themselves powerless in case a run of herring should enter the bay as the people express the intention of selling bait to these vessels.

The penalty of purchasing bait is confiscation of the vessel and outfit. A telegram from Bay of St. George today states that two American captains intend to proceed to Bay of Islands to catch herring.

The revenue cruiser Fiona is now cruising between Bonne Bay and Bay of Islands.

HEMERY IS THE WINNER

French Machine Wins Vanderbilt Cup in Auto Race.

Time Over the Course of 283 Miles Is 276 Minutes—Accidents During the Race Were Numerous, But None Were Fatal—List of the Leaders in Race.

New York, Oct. 14.—In a driving finish, with the next man only a few seconds behind him, Hemery of the team of French automobile racers, won the race for the W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., cup over the Long Island course today. Hemery made the distance of 283 miles in 2:6 minutes elapsed time.

George Heath, an American driving a French car, was second, while Tracey, an American, but not of the French team, was third and Lancia, of the Italian team fourth. Hemery won from Heath by 3 minutes and 32 seconds elapsed time. The elapsed time of the four leaders in the race was: Hemery, 4:36:08; Heath, 4:39:40; Tracey, 4:58:26; Lancia, 5:00:31.

Jenatzky, the German took the lead and was a favorite until attempting to round a sharp curve his machine snapped a chain. Lancia then got the lead, which he held until a collision with Christie occurred. This delayed him enough to allow Hemery and Heath to pass. For several rounds it was a close fight between these three for leadership. Hemery was not headed and the first to cross the line. Occupants in the stand held their breath until the cars flew through and scarcely a cheer sounded until they were well down the road. Then the spectators shouted themselves hoarse. The fight for third place was between Tracy and Lancia. Tracy won out.

rado. Ellis never suspected Brush of any crooked work until he arrived in Berkeley when Brush broached a campaign of crime in the cities about the bay. Ellis states that while he refused to be a partner to the crime he did not denounce Brush because of the strong influence the man held over him. He says Brush always treated him with kindness until the attack.
